

SOCIETY

LARGEST and most elaborate of the social events of the week was the great ball on the evening of Thursday, Kalakaua Day, at the National Guard Armory. In the spirit of the occasion—the revival in gay picturesqueness of the days of monarchical merriment—and in the gala crowd which attended, the Kalakaua Day ball proved one of the season's leading social events.

The great hall, with its high-domed roof, was very beautifully decorated, the opportunity being unusual to combine striking national colors and the Hawaiian flag with green and flowers. Flags, palm-branches and shrubbery transformed the bare interior into a conservatory.

At the mauka end of the armory was grouped the reception committee and receiving line. Overhead a high frame work held two huge Hawaiian flags which flanked the royal standard or ensign. The famous gold and crimson chairs of the palace were used and the whole event had the air of a royal reception of long ago.

Princess Kawanakoa and Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole received the two thousand guests, as they passed in front of the line, with the gracious hospitality that has made the people of Hawaii famous.

The gowns worn by both princesses were very beautiful. Princess Kawanakoa was a beauty as she stood graciously smiling. Her gown was a pale silver blue brocade, cut velvet with rose point, and a court train. She wore splendid diamond earrings and necklace with pendant.

Princess Kalaniana'ole looked especially well in a cloth-of-gold gown with long court train, a diamond and platinum band in her hair holding a paradise plant.

Princess Kalaniana'ole wore diamonds and pearls.

A cosmopolitan throng of society folk made up the bulk of the large crowd. The handsome uniforms of army and navy, the conventional black of the masculine dancers in civilian attire, the white dresses of the Hawaiian women's societies, many feather leis, golden or scarlet capes, and other reminders of the days of royalty, gave a surprising touch of the historic to the ball.

James W. Robertson, former chamberlain at the court of Queen Liliuokalani, presented the guests. He was arrayed in the uniform of the Kalakaua period. Henry F. Bartelmann, former member of the staff of King Kalakaua, and E. K. Lilikalani, former officer of the King's Guard, assisted Mr. Robertson, both in the uniforms of their monarchical rank.

At 9:45 Governor Pinkham and his staff entered the armory, announced by a striking bugle-call. As the Hawaiian band played "America" representatives of the Kalakaua dynasty stood at attention before the Stars and Stripes, while the governor and his staff faced the Hawaiian flag. It was an impressive tableau—the courts of the monarchy that had passed, the official representatives of the republic that now binds together Hawaii and the states. While it continued, the hundreds of guests at the ball stood until the strains of "America" died away.

Miss Nell Lockwood, contralto, who will be heard in recital here. She is recently from California, where she was very favorably received.

After the reception hour, which began formally at 9 o'clock, dancing continued until nearly midnight. This ball closed the ceremonies of Kalakaua Day, marking this year the most elaborate attempt at commemorating the "merry monarch."

SERVICE BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Capt. and Mrs. Jack Hayes entertained the new Service Bridge Club on Wednesday instead of Monday evening of this week. After several good rubber refreshments were served, Capt. and Mrs. Hayes' guests were Maj. and Mrs. Charles A. Ragan, Col. and Mrs. James McRae, Col. and Mrs. William F. Kendall, Maj. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln and Capt. and Mrs. James Gallogly.

THANKSGIVING DELICACIES SALE
Lavish preparations are being made by the women of St. Andrew's parish for their annual sale of Thanksgiving delicacies on the afternoon of November 23 from 2 to 5. All the good things necessary for the November festival will be on sale—all home-prepared.

Amusement will be provided for the children—a balloon man, ice cream cones, a particularly fascinating "grab" where every little one will draw a tiny gift. The fancy work booth will have all sorts and kinds of dainty and beautiful things to suit all purses. A pretty feature will be the afternoon tea room, where tea will be served from 3:30 until 5 o'clock. The ladies in charge of this interesting affair are:

Mrs. H. M. von Holt, general chairman.

Fancy Work Table—Mrs. A. A. Young, Mrs. Tom Wall, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. W. B. Giffard, Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Mrs. L. Capps, Mrs. William Ault, Mrs. John Lennox, Mrs. Charlotte Pentland, Mrs. J. W. Caldwell, Mrs. L. Judd, Mrs. E. L. S. Gordon, Mrs. William Soper, Mrs. Penneck, Mrs. Ferdinand Jones, Mrs. Cherill, Mrs. R. O. Matheson, Mrs. Merrick, Miss Harolings, the Misses Gillett.

Meats—Mrs. E. D. Kilbourne, Mrs. C. M. V. Forster, Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Jr., Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. Hoffman.

Afternoon Tea Tables—Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mrs. Alex. Lindsay, Jr.

Ice Cream Cones—Mrs. Thomas Sharp, Mrs. Christian Jenkins.

Grab Bag for the Children—Mrs. Edward Dekum, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. R. O. Matheson, Miss Katherine von Holt, Miss Kealoa Waterhouse.

Pies—Mrs. Byron E. Noble, Mrs. Jared Smith, Mrs. Gooding Field.

Cakes—Mrs. Chas. Crane, Mrs. E. C. Crabbe, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Ferdinand Hons.

Candy—Mrs. R. R. Raymond, the Misses Raymond, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Bread and Rolls—Miss Edith Milt.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM A. LOVE'S DINNER
Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. William A. Love gave a dinner party in the palm garden of the University Club. The table was very pretty with a central adornment of a basket filled with pale pink asters and lace fern. The dinner was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner of London, who have come to winter in Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. Love's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner, the honor-guests; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Miss Moore and Mr. Willard Brown.

SECRETARY AND MRS. WADE WARREN THAYER ENTERTAIN
Secretary and Mrs. Wade Warren Thayer entertained a company of guests at dinner on Thursday evening of this week at the University Club, which was a very popular rendezvous for many diners, all attending the Kalakaua ball at the armory afterwards. Mr. and Mrs. Thayer's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hemenway, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clark. The table was most attractive. A crystal basket held pale pink and lavender asters with maidenhair fern.

MRS. HAROLD HAYSSELDEN'S BRIDGE AFTERNOON
Mrs. Harold Hayselden's pretty Maunaloa home was the setting for one of the large card parties of the week. The rooms were very attractively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and baskets of ferns and palms. When the scores were counted it was found that Mrs. Donald Ross held the highest, Miss Jordan the second highest and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes the consolation. Each was given one of the new black and white china fern baskets, so the winners were quite the envy of the party.

Mrs. Hayselden's guests were Mrs. William P. Kendall, Mrs. Renton Hind, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Trenfield, Miss Maud Jordan, Mrs. Matthew Graham, Mrs. C. F. Schmutzer, Miss Catherine Woodford, Mrs. Howard Ellis, Miss Pearl Josephson, Miss Queenie Jordan, Mrs. Donald Currie, Miss Josephine Soper, Mrs. Kenneth Cousins, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, Miss Blanche Soper, Mrs. Donald Kinney, Mrs. Arthur Berg, Madame Bougardier, Mrs. Charles Lincoln, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Mrs. Joseph E. Sheedy, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. Tom Boylan, Mrs. L. Capps and Mrs. Jack Hayes.

MRS. CARPENTER A TEA HOSTESS
Laniakaa on Wednesday of this week was the setting for a small informal tea at which Mrs. Carpenter was hostess. The guests were Miss Sibyl Robertson, Miss Grace Robertson, Mrs. Arthur Gilman and Mrs. James Dougherty. An hour of sewing kept the guests busy.

MISS MAUD JORDAN A BRIDGE HOSTESS
Miss Maud Jordan was hostess at a bridge party on Saturday of last week. After several spirited games of bridge the highest score was found to be held by Mrs. James Cockburn, the prize being a carved ivory box. The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. James Cockburn, Mrs. D. Keith Wilson of Vancouver, Mrs. Denbigh, Mrs. E. L. S. Gordon, Mrs. McRae, Mrs. Harold Hayselden, Mrs. Henry P. Wood, Mrs. Arthur Berg, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. James A. Gallogly, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Trenfield, Mrs. Renton Hind, Mrs. William P. Kendall, Miss Josephine Soper, Mrs. Claude Watson, Miss Blanche Soper and others.

COMMANDANT AND MRS. GEORGE CLARK ENTERTAIN
Another of the pretty dinners given at the University Club on Thursday evening was the one at which Commandant and Mrs. George Clark presided. Covers were placed for 10 guests. After dinner all attended the Kalakaua Dynasty ball.

COL. WILLIAM WEIGEL'S DINNER
The University Club was the setting for a very attractive dinner on Thursday evening when Col. William Weigel entertained a dozen guests at dinner, afterwards attending the Kalakaua dynasty ball at the armory.

MRS. R. R. RAYMOND'S BRIDGE
Mrs. W. P. Feasenden of Boston, who is here as the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, was Mrs. R. R. Raymond's guest of honor on Monday when Mrs. Raymond entertained at bridge. The rooms were prettily decorated with greens and pink blossoms. After several very exciting rubbers of bridge it was found that Mrs. Jack Hayes held the highest score and a very lovely art cretin bag was given her. Mrs. Drake held the next highest score and to her was presented a very nicely mounted bridge score card.

The friends enjoying Mrs. Raymond's hospitality were Mrs. W. P. Feasenden, the guest of honor; Mrs. Downing of San Francisco, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edgar; Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell, Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Mrs. Raymond A. Wheeler, Mrs. William A. Hunt, Mrs. William P. Kendall, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. James McRae, Mrs. James Gallogly, Mrs. Daniel H. Ginty, Mrs. James B. Houston, Mrs. Guy Palmer, Mrs. Charles A. Ragan, Mrs. Frank A. Drake, Mrs. Lloyd B. Magruder, Miss Lytell and Miss Taylor.

JUDGE AND MRS. SANFORD B. DOLE'S LUNCHEON
At "Aquamarine," the beach home of Judge and Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Senator James D. Phelan of San Francisco was the guest of honor at luncheon yesterday. The table was decorated with American Beauty roses and lace fern. Those enjoying Judge and Mrs. Dole's hospitality were Senator James D. Phelan, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mitchell of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Lorrin A. Thurston and Mrs. Eben Parker Low.

JUDGE AND MRS. EDWARD WATSON HONORED
Last evening at their pretty Nuuanu home, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watson entertained at dinner honoring Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson, who have just returned from the mainland. Bridge was the diversion after dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Dekum's guests were Judge and Mrs. Watson, the guests of honor; Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, Miss Louise Lucas and Mr. Douglas Young.

THE DAUGHTERS OF WARRIORS MEET
On Wednesday the Daughters of Warriors of Hawaii gave a pot luncheon honoring Princess David Kawanakoa at the home of Mrs. Manuel Reis on Spencer street. About 300 guests sat down and enjoyed a genuine Hawaiian feast. After the luncheon Princess Kawanakoa was made an honorary member of the society. Taxicabs were the diversions for the afternoon.

Col. and Mrs. Wilmet E. Ellis have invitations out for a dinner on November 29.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Magruder are planning a dinner dance for one evening next week.

Chinese-American

Hand craft BASKETS

—those handsome adaptations, or rather modifications, of Oriental color motifs and handmade baskets, into baskets suited to American uses—are to be found at

GURREY'S

1066 Fort Street

Christmas Gifts

Japanese silk goods, objects of art, and new curios. Largest stock and lowest prices.

SAYEGUSA

Nuuanu, above Hotel

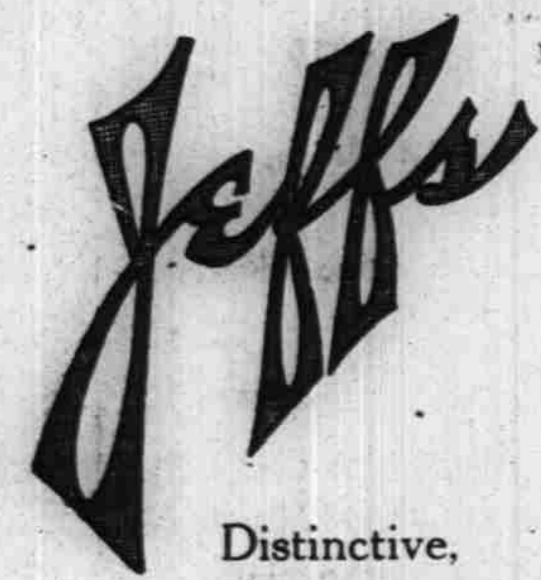

Phone 1522

In readiness:

A complete showing of

Fashionable Apparel

for Ladies' and Misses'

Distinctive,
Original,
Exclusive,

—yet moderate in price.

Street Dresses
Evening Gowns
Separate Skirts
Blouses
MILLINERY

JEFFS FASHION CO., Inc.
Fort St. at Beretania

"Quality First"

The common saying that

"There's nothing like Leather"

Surely holds good when one is considering

Holiday Gifts

Our assortment of Leather Novelties consists of:-

Bags
Medicine Cases
Manicure Sets
Telephone Pads
Recipe Books
Leather Baskets

Jewel Boxes
Tie Holders
Work Boxes
Collar Boxes
Scissor Cases
Magazine Holders

We have just received a few shades in light weight Jersey Cloth.

Whitney and Marsh

Phone 1725

—1045 Fort Street